THE TIGERS OF 1949

W. O. Briggs

Detroit's 1949 player roster contains a dozen names not on the list a year ago. Approximately half of this number are rookies who will probably be assigned to berths with the farm clubs. Under the direction of a new manager, Robert "Red" Rolfe, however, the club should be strengthened by the presence of the remainder, and give a better performance than it turned in as a fifth-place organization in 1948.

In the outfield, Johnny Groth should improve the Tigers, defensively and offensively. As a member of the Buffalo club, in 1948, Groth had a batting average of .340 and was considered the outstanding rookie in the International League. An excellent ground coverer, he probably will be assigned to center field, with "Hoot" Evers, the club's leading hitter last season, being shifted. Dick Wakefield, Pat Mullin, Victor Wertz, and Don Lund, recently purchased from the Browns, will be the competitors for the third outfield position.

Aaron Robinson, obtained from the White Sox, in a trade for Pitcher Billy Pierce, and the possible promotion of Myron "Joe" Ginsberg, Detroit boy, from Williamsport, should strengthen the club behind the plate, where it has been below par for several seasons. Also available as catchers are the veteran Bob Swift and Harvey Riebe, of last year's club.

While the Tigers are without the services of an outstanding relief pitcher, Tiger hurling, which was spotty in 1948, should be better this season with Ted Gray, young left-hander, and Lou Kretlow as regular starters and a hoped for improvement in the performance of Art Houtteman, under the tutelage of Ted Lyons, one of the new Tiger coaches.

Given a chance as a starting pitcher late in the season, young Gray delighted the fans with his 6 and 2, record. Kretlow won 21 and lost 12, at Williamsport and is figured to aid the staff greatly. Houtteman, with a disappointing total of 2 wins and 16 losses, was the victim of considerable hard luck and is still regarded highly by Tiger officials. Saul Rogovin, with Buffalo, last season and Marvin Grissom, obtained in the draft, from Sacramento, are rookies going to Lakeland, who may make the club.

As in 1948, the Tigers will have the services of the veterans Newhouser, Hutchinson, Trucks, Trout, Overmire and White. Newhouser was the ace of the club's staff last season, and had the most victories among American League pitchers. Hutchinson, whose record was affected by protracted illness, did not turn in as good a performance as in the preceding year, but he is still considered one of the Tiger topnotchers.

BILLY EVANS

Efforts by Billy Evans to effect either a trade or a purchase in the hope of strengthening the second base position were unavailing in spite of sizable sums of Owner Walter O. Briggs' cash, which the general manager offered to rival clubs. Unless a deal is made during the training season, the Tigers' infield will probably consist this year of the reliable Kell, at third; Johnny Lipon, who fielded acceptably and hit just under the .300 mark in 1948, at short; Eddie Lake or Neil Berry at second and George Vico, Paul Campbell or Tony Lupien, at first.

It is from the managerial staff, however, that Tiger fans are hoping for an improved club this season. "Red" Rolfe, who replaced the veteran Steve O'Neill, pilot of the Tigers for the six preceding seasons, believes that Detroit clubs in recent years have been lacking in hustle and he is likely to insist on greater aggressiveness. As a means towards this end, he selected Dick Bartell, peppery shortstop of the championship Detroit club, of 1945, as one of his coaches. Bartell is popular with Detroit fans and should prove a colorful addition to the organization.

Headed by a new appointee, Ray Kennedy, the Tiger farm chain, will consist of 11 clubs, this year, six of which Toledo, Flint, Williamsport, Thomasville, Troy and Jamestown are owned outright by the parent organization. The complete set-up appears elsewhere in this booklet as does the list of scouts which has undergone some minor alterations.

RAY KENNEDY

Ray Kennedy was selected for the farm post by Mr. Evans from a lengthy list of prospects. With a background of 15 years as head of the Yankee farm system and a connection with the Pittsburgh club as general manager and farm club official, he is regarded as a valuable acquisition in the building up of the Tiger minor league chain.

Along with the players listed on the roster, Manager Rolfe is taking 14 young pitchers from the farm clubs to Lakeland. In the morning they will undergo instruction from Coach Ted Lyons and in the afternoon take turns as batting practice pitchers. At the conclusion of their training they will be assigned to clubs in the Tiger chain. Their names appear elsewhere in this book.

BRIEF REVIEW OF TIGERS' 1948 PERFORMANCE

For the first time since 1943, Detroit finished out of the first division, 18½ games behind the Cleveland Indians. At home and abroad, the record was identical, 39 victories and 38 defeats.

In spite of this performance, the club enjoyed the greatest attendance in its history, with 1,743,035 cash customers passing through the Briggs Stadium turnstiles. Fourteen night games, played for the first time under the new $400,000 lighting system, installed by Owner Walter O. Briggs, accounted for 628,703 of the total.

After getting away to a good start in 1948, by copping their first three games, the Tigers commenced to skid and it was not until May 15, that they were able to chalk up a victory at Briggs Stadium. As a result, the club was in, or hovered near, the second division throughout the greater part of the season.

Injuries and illness were large factors in the club's failure to land higher in the standings. Both Hutchinson and Trout were idle for several weeks and Mullin and Newhouser for lesser periods. Perhaps the greatest loss resulted from a series of major injuries to the doughty George Kell, which permitted him to play in but 92 games of the schedule. Houtteman, who had been counted on to win 10 or 15 games, in view of his performance near the close of the 1947 season, disappointed the fans with his record of 2 victories and 16 defeats. Ineffective relief pitching and the scarsity of long ball hitters, also figured in the final result.

Over only three of its opponents, Philadelphia, Washington and Chicago, did the Tigers hold an advantage in games won. The Boston Red Sox proved to be the toughest opposition, taking 15 of the 22 contests waged.

June 30, the Tigers were the victims of the first no-hit, no-run game played at Michigan and Trumbull avenues, since 1922, when Bob Lemon, of the Cleveland Indians, achieved the distinction, under the lights. The score: Cleveland, 2-5-0; Detroit 0-0-2.

TIGER THUMBNAILS

MANAGER

ROBERT "RED" ROLFE

Chosen from a field of 50, Rolfe takes over the job held for six years by Steve O'Neill, with no previous experience as a manager, but with a fine background as an intelligent and aggressive player, and the high regard of the fans of Detroit and Michigan.

The former star third baseman and coach of the Yankees, did not seek the post. As head of the Tiger minor league chain, he had built up that organization, in less than a year, from 100 players to nearly double that number and was reluctant to make the switch. His knowledge of the farm set-up, it was felt by General Manager Evans, would be a great asset in the managerial position, however, and Red was finally persuaded into acceptance.

Trained under Joe McCarthy, after his graduation from Dartmouth and a period with the Yankee farm clubs, Rolfe was an outstanding member of the New York club, for nine seasons, during which time it never finished out of the money. A participant in six World Series, "Red" was also chosen for All-Star honors on three occasions.

In his college days, the new Tiger pilot was a shortstop. He began his professional career, with Albany, in 1931, and it was not until he was switched to the "hot corner," as a Yankee, that his ability as a fielder and hitter asserted itself. Previous to joining the Detroit organization, in August of 1947, Rolfe was coach of the Yankees and served in a similar capacity with the Yale and Toronto basketball clubs.

His selection as Tiger leader, came in response to what was recognized as a definite demand for more aggressive play at Briggs Stadium. He is inclined to favor the younger players and it seems likely that there will be little or no loafing on the field, this season.

Rolfe was born Oct. 17, 1908, at Penacook, N. H. Previous to his entrance at Dartmouth, he attended Phillips Exeter. He was married Oct. 12, 1934, to Maud Isabel Africa. The Rolfes live in an attractive home, in the outskirts of Detroit, purchased a year ago.

COACHES

THEODORE A. LYONS

Veteran White Sox pitcher and recent manager of the club. Lyons was chosen for the coaching staff, by Manager Rolfe, in the belief that he could be of great assistance in the development of Detroit's young pitchers. Except for the time in which he was in service, Lyons was a member of the Chicago pitching staff, from 1923 to 1946, during which period he was better than a 20-game winner on three occasions. In 1925 and 1927, he was the league's leading pitcher. On Aug. 21, 1926 "Ted" hurled a no-hitter, against the Boston Red Sox and lost a 21-inning contest, to the Tigers, May 24, 1929. Born, at Lake Charles, La., Dec. 28, 1900, Lyons is a graduate of Baylor University.

RICHARD BARTELL

Dick is best remembered by Detroit fans as a peppery shortstop on the championship 1945 club. In fact it was for this aggressiveness that Manager Rolfe chose him as a coach. A resident of Alameda, Calif., he played in both major leagues before managing the Sacramento, Pacific Coast League club in 1947. Last year, he held a similar post with the Kansas City club.

NOTICE TO PRESS AND RADIO

The material in this booklet, assembled for the convenience of Press and Radio, was accurate up to the time of going to press, February 15.

It is likely that between this date and the opening of the season, it may undergo some changes. Billy Evans is still endeavoring to strengthen the second base position and may succeed in doing so before the club goes to Lakeland, Fla., training camp.

Cardboard copies of the center or roster pages are available for press photographers or others who prefer them and will be forwarded, upon request to Edward T. Fitzgerald, Briggs Stadium, Detroit 16, Mich.

PITCHERS

THEODORE GLENN GRAY

This slender, young left-hander, won the warm affection of Tiger fans, when late in the season, he was given a chance as a starting pitcher and wound up with a six and two record. Three of these victories were wrested from the Indians, Red Sox and Yankees. It is the expectation of Manager Rolfe that Gray, who was born in Detroit and lives in one of its suburbs, will be among the club's top pitchers in '49. Ted attended Highland Park Junior College and started his career with the Winston-Salem club, in 1942. He was in the Navy from Feb. '43 to May '46, with the rank of Petty Officer, First Class. With Buffalo in '46 and '47, he established a record for strikeouts. Of Scotch-Irish descent young Gray was married to Doreen Burtenshaw, June 18, 1947, and has a daughter, Jorga, born in June, of last year.

MARVIN GRISSOM

Obtained in the draft, by the Tigers, Grissom won 11 and lost 7, for the Sacramento club, last season, in spite of a sore-arm handicap. A native Californian, the big fellow entered pro ball with the San Bernardino club in 1941 and was in service from 1942 until 1946. As a free agent, he was signed by the Giants. Farmed out to Jersey City and Minneapolis, he was released to Sacramento, last year, where until his arm trouble, he was one of the most effective pitchers in the league. Grissom is married and resides in Red Bluff, Cal., where he was born and attended school.

ARTHUR J. HOUTTEMAN

Art had a disappointing season in '48 after he had raised Tigers hopes in the late weeks of the '47 campaign by winning 7 and losing 2. In spite of his adversity, the club regards him as one of its most valuable prospects and expects that under instruction by Ted Lyons, a master of pace in his prime, Houtteman will develop into one of the leading moundsmen. Of Belgian parentage, Art was born in Detroit, signed by Scout Wish Egan and farmed out to Buffalo, where in 1946, he led the International League pitchers in strikeouts. His address during the off-season is La Jolla, Calif.

FREDERICK CHARLES HUTCHINSON

"Hutch" like "Diz" Trout was incapacitated for several weeks during the season of '48, with the result that his won and lost figures were not as favorable as those of the previous year. He attended Washington University in Seattle, with the idea of becoming a physician but was lured into baseball and after a sensational performance of 25 victories and 7 losses for the Seattle Rainiers in 1938 was acquired by the Tigers in exchange for a sizable amount of cash and four players. Sent to Buffalo, he had a 26 and 7 record in 1941. He joined the Navy that year and did not return to the Tigers, until 1946, when he won 14 and lost 11. His best record for the Tigers was compiled in '47, when he had 18 and 10 and was the club's leading pitcher. He was married to Patricia Finley, April 24, 1943, and has three children, Fred, Jack and Patricia. He is of Scotch-Irish descent.

LOUIS A. KRETLOW

Lou distinguished himself last season as a member of the Williamsport club, by having the most victories in the Eastern league as well as the most strikeouts (219) and by hurling a no-hitter against Binghamton, on May 24. As a result of this performance he is likely to become a Tiger regular who may increase the effectiveness of the club's staff. Kretlow is a graduate of Oklahoma University and was a sergeant in the air corps. He was signed to a Detroit contract principally because of his fine hurling for the Enid, Oklahoma, Army Airfield club, for whom he won 48 victories with only 16 defeats in a three-year period. He won 10 games for Williamsport in '46 but his showing with Buffalo, the following season, was not so good, due to illness. Of German-Irish-English extraction, he has two daughters and lives in Edmond, Oklahoma.

HAROLD NEWHOUSER

Hal is beginning his tenth year with the Tigers. In his ninth, he accounted for more victories than any other A. L. pitcher, was third in the earned-run totals and for the fourth time accumulated a score or more victories in a season. As a result, Newhouser, who had a rather indifferent record the year previous, was given a substantial salary increase, to make him one of the best compensated players in the game's history. In four years, Hal has accumulated 118 victories. He had the record for the most strikeouts in the seasons of '44 and '45, on which occasions he was voted the league's most valuable player. The holder of several other pitching records, he was chosen six times for All-Star participation. A native of Detroit, Newhouser attended Wilbur Wright Prep, where his pitching there and in American Legion circles, caused him to be signed by Scout Wish Egan. Of German extraction, Hal just recently moved into a handsome new home, shared by his wife and daughters, Charlene and Cherrill.

FRANK OVERMIRE

One of the club's three lefthanders, Stubby was used largely in relief work, last season. Of Pennsylvania Dutch extraction, he has an A. B. degree from Western State Teachers College and got his start in 1941 with the Muskegon, Michigan club, then owned by Detroit. The following year he was with Beaumont. He has been with the Tigers from 1943 on. He is a resident of Grand Rapids, and has a son, aged three.

SAUL ROGOVIN

Saul may be one-half of a Jewish Tiger battery, if he and Joe Ginsberg, another rookie, make the club. With Chattanooga, Rogovin played the outfield in 1944 and 1945. After a season with Pensacola, he was converted into a pitcher. Has been with Buffalo for the past two years. In '47, he had a 3 and 4 total and in '48, 13 and 7. Saul lives in Brooklyn, his birthplace, where he is a salesman during the off season.

MARLIN H. STUART

Selected by the Tigers from Little Rock, Stuart entered pro ball, with the Mayfield, Ky., club, in 1940. In 1941, he was with St. Joseph, Michigan, and later with Toledo and San Antonio before going to Little Rock, where last season he had a record of 15 and 10. Was credited with 106 strikeouts in 198 innings. Stuart was born in Paragould, Ark., where he lives with his wife and son.

PAUL HOWARD TROUT

"Diz," one of the most earnest members of the Tiger squad, was handicapped by a sore elbow during a good part of the season and his record was a disappointment to himself and to the club. Unless his condition improves, there is a possibility that Manager Rolfe may use him largely in relief work, this season. After experience with the Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Toledo and Beaumont clubs, Paul became a Tiger regular in 1939. He overcame an early tendency towards wildness and won 20 games in 1943 and 27 the following season. During the pennant race of 1945, he pitched six games in nine days and won four of them. An after-dinner speaker of ability, "Diz" is much sought after for speaking engagements. Trout married Pearl Eva Ortmann, Sept. 27, 1939, and has a family consisting of two boys and two girls. His home is in Detroit.

VIRGIL OLIVER TRUCKS

Virgil just got over the .500 mark, in 1948, with 14 wins and 13 losses. He entered pro ball with Andalusia, for whom he pitched two no-hit games, in 1938; moved up to Beaumont, Buffalo and became a Tiger regular in '41. He was in the navy, at Great Lakes Naval Training station, from Feb. 23, 1944, to Sept. 28, 1945, returning to the Tigers in time to win one game of the successful World Series, of that year. Trucks is of Irish-Indian ancestry and lives with his wife and three children in his birthplace, Birmingham, Alabama.

HAROLD GEORGE WHITE

Hal was used principally as a relief pitcher, in 1948. With the exception of the years that he was in the navy, he has been with the Tigers since 1942. Previously he played with Rome, Wilkes-Barre, and Buffalo. In his first two major league starts he pitched shut-outs. Of English descent, he has two daughters and a son and lives in Utica.

CATCHERS

JACKIE LEE BALES

A rookie with the nickname of "Cotton," Bales will be given a tryout at the Lakeland training camp. His home is in Hot Springs, Ark., where he was born and attended high school. A product of Legion baseball, he had no professional experience until mid-season of last year. In June he was with Little Rock and the remainder of the season with Montgomery, where in eleven games, he hit for a .238 average. He was married July 8, 1948, to Polly-Ann Bland.

MYRON "JOE" GINSBERG

Ginsberg was born in New York but attended Cooley High School, in Detroit, where he now makes his home and where as a sandlot player, he won the approval of Scout "Wish" Egan. He was with Jamestown in 1944, in service thereafter until October 1946, when he joined Williamsport. In 107 games with the Tiger farm club, in '48, he hit for .326, being nosed out for the league batting championship by his teammate, Bruce Blanchard, whose mark was a point higher. In fielding, with a mark of .987, he was virtually the league leader. Brought up to Detroit, late in the season of 1948, Ginsberg, made a fine impression on the fans with his aggressiveness. In 36 games, with the Tigers, he hit for .361. He has a chance to make the club this year but may be sent to one of the Tiger minor league organizations for more experience.

DICK BARTELL, Coach TED LYONS, Coach JACK HOMEL, Trainer

HARVEY DONALD RIEBE

A product of the Cleveland sandlots, Riebe appeared in less than one-sixth of the Tigers' games last season. He began his pro career with Alexandria, in 1939, and was with Muskegon, Winston-Salem and Beaumont, before entering service in 1942. After his discharge he was with Dallas, before being optioned out to Memphis, in 1947. He was married to Mary Golinar, Feb. 19, 1946 and makes his home in Euclid, Ohio.

AARON ANDREW ROBINSON

Robinson was obtained from the White Sox, in a trade for Billy Pierce, young lefthander, at the close of the 1948 season. He is expected to lend strength where it is needed badly. In addition, he is a long ball hitter, who had 29 home runs with the Yankees in a three year period before he was traded to the White Sox, for Pitcher Ed Lopat, a year ago. Of Scotch-Irish ancestry, Robinson entered professional baseball, in 1937, and served with the Akron, Binghampton, Akron, Kansas City and Newark clubs, before becoming a Yankee regular in 1945. From 1943 to 1945, he was a Specialist Third Class, in the Coast Guard, at New London, Conn. In 1946, his best year with the Yankees, Robinson hit for .297 and had 16 home runs, in 100 games. The following year, he led the American League catchers in fielding, with an average of .997. Aaron, who seems likely to be the Tigers' No. 1, backstop, this season, was born in Lancaster, S. C., where he still resides. He was married Feb. 6, 1937, to Eva Ransom.

ROBERT VIRGIL SWIFT

A clothing store representative in the off-season, "Bob" has been a member of the Detroit catching staff, since the close of the 1943 season, when he was obtained in a trade with the Athletics. He did the major part of the Tiger backstopping last season and hit for a .220 mark. Of English-Irish ancestry, Swift got his start with the Muskogee, Okla., club, in 1943, was with the Henderson, Charleston, Augusta and San Antonio clubs before joining the St. Louis Browns, in 1940. He went to the Athletics in a trade for Catcher Frank Hayes. Swift was married to Edith Hull, Feb. 14, 1935 and makes his home in Detroit.

INFIELDERS

JOHN G. BERO

Bero, a second baseman, went to Lakeland, a year ago, but was sent back to Buffalo, where he had 18 doubles, five triples and 10 home runs, in 134 games. Of Hungarian descent, he played sandlot ball in Flint and was on the Western Michigan College nine before joining the Bisons, in 1943. He was a member of the Fifth Bomber Group for nearly three years. He has two sons and makes his home in Flint.

CORNELIUS BERRY

Neil alternated at short and second, last season, and unless the club lands a top-notcher as a second baseman, will probably be competing with Eddie Lake for that spot, this year. Before joining Winston-Salem, in 1942, he attended Western Michigan College, at Kalamazoo. He was a member of the Air Corps, from October, 1942, until February, 1946. Spent two seasons with Buffalo, before being brought up with the Tigers, in '48. Of Dutch-Irish ancestry, he lives with his wife and son, in Kalamazoo.

PAUL M. CAMPBELL

Purchased from the Louisville club after the close of the '47 season, Campbell saw little service at first base, last year, George Vico being given the call, by Manager O'Neill. He has been in organized baseball since 1936 and twice was given a chance with the Red Sox, after seasoning with the Little Rock, Louisville and Montreal clubs. As a member of the 306th Bomber Group, he served in England and Germany. Of Scotch-Irish descent, he is married and lives in Louisville.

HAROLD RAY DAUGHERTY

"Doc" is the former baseball and football star at Ohio State University, who had his first professional experience, playing short, for the Williamsport farm club, last season. In 140 games, he had 132 hits of which 19 were doubles, 7 triples and 9 home runs. Before attending Ohio State, Daugherty was an outstanding athlete at Weirton, West Virginia High School. He is highly regarded by Manager Rolfe but will probably spend more time with the farm clubs before being brought up to Briggs Stadium.

GEORGE KELL

One of the club's most valuable assets and considered by most critics as the game's best third baseman, Kell was the victim of three serious injuries, last season, which kept him out of all but 92 games. Two of these, a cracked wrist and a fractured jaw, occurred in the Yankee stadium. As in the preceding two seasons, George's performance was of high character. His mark of .304, was not as good as his batting averages for '46 and '47, but it was exceeded on the club only by "Hoot" Evers' .314. A prime favorite with Detroit fans, Kell was obtained from the Athletics in May, 1946, in a trade for Outfielder Barney McCosky. After attending Arkansas State College, he played with the Newport and Lancaster, Arkansas, clubs. He attracted Connie Mack's attention, when with the latter club, in 1943, he led all the minor league players in the U. S. in hitting, with a .396 mark. He has been chosen for All-Star play three times but was kept out of the 1948 classic because of an injury. In a game against Cleveland, in 1946, Kell had six hits. March 24, 1941, he married Charlene Felts. He has a son, George Clyde, Jr., and lives in the off-season, in his birth-place, Swifton, Ark.

EDWARD E. LAKE

Eddie was a holdout in 1948 and did not get into a game in Spring practice, until April 3. During the season, he played 45 games at second base, splitting the assignment with Mayo and Berry. Previously, he had been the Tiger shortstop. Lake came to the club, in 1946, in a trade with the Red Sox for First Baseman Rudy York. He entered pro baseball in 1937 and has played in both major leagues. Eddie is married, has two daughters and raises cattle in the off-season. His home is in Oakland, Cal.

JOHN J. LIPON

Johnny played an exceptionally fine game at short in '48 and his batting average of .290 included 18 doubles, 8 triples and 5 home runs. A Detroit product, Lipon made a hit with Briggs Stadium patrons on his first appearance before a Sunday audience, in 1942. He was in the Navy for nearly four years and spent a season with Dallas in 1947, where an ailing arm rounded to form. Of Polish descent, Johnny is well thought of by Detroit and Michigan fans.

ULYSSES J. LUPIEN, JR.

Harvard-educated "Tony" came to the Tigers from the White Sox, late in January, over the waiver route. He will be contesting with George Vico and Paul Campbell for the first base position. After leaving college, Lupien was with Little Rock, Scranton and Louisville before going up to the parent Red Sox club. He went to the Phillies after being waived out of the American League and then to the Hollywood club, in the Pacific Coast League, where in 1947, he hit for a .341 figure, had 21 home runs, 12 triples and 38 doubles, and led the league in hits and total bases. With Chicago, last season, however, his batting fell off.

ROBERT HENRY MAVIS

A salesman in the off-season, in Milwaukee, Bob will be trying for second base, a position he played with Little Rock, in 1948. Of German descent, he has been in organized baseball since 1944 and in 146 games last season, had a fielding average of .969 and was one of the Southern Association's top hitters. He was married May 3, 1941 to Viola Grunan and has a daughter, aged 5.

EDWARD J. MAYO

Troubled by a lame back, Eddie's performance last season, did not satisfy the management, which for nearly a year, has been trying to obtain greater strength at second base. Mayo has been in organized baseball, (and as a player in both major leagues), since 1932. He came to the Tigers in 1944 and was a vital factor in the winning of the pennant in 1945. Of Polish ancestry, he is popular with the patrons of Briggs Stadium.

GEORGE S. VICO

Resident of Torrance, Calif., George became a Tiger regular in 1948, after hitting .307, for Portland the year before. Six-foot four, and a Yugoslav, Vico entered pro ranks with Fulton, of the Kitty League, in 1941. After a season with Winston-Salem, he joined the Navy as a Specialist 1/c., and was in service until Oct. 26, 1945. A carpenter, during the winter months, Vico is married and has a daughter, Cynthia Marie, aged two.

OUTFIELDERS

JOHN R. CREEL

Drafted from the Dallas club, a year ago, on recommendation of "Red" Rolfe, Creel was sent to Williamsport, where he saw limited service in the outfield. Before joining Dallas, in 1946, he played Legion ball with Montgomery, where he hit for .327. Was in the Navy during the war, is married and makes his home in Dallas.

WALTER A. EVERS

Handicapped by serious injuries in '46 and '47, "Hoot" had his best year with the Tigers, last season, leading the club in hitting and having 101 R. B. I.'s. With Johnny Groth likely to play center, in '49, Evers will probably be shifted to right field. A graduate of the University of Illinois, where he starred in basketball, baseball and track, "Hoot" got a seasoning on the Winston-Salem and Beaumont clubs, before joining the Tigers. He was in service from 1942 to 1945. Of German-Dutch origin, he is married and has a daughter, Nancy Christine. Lives in Collingsville, Ill. Says his nickname resulted from his boyhood worship of Cowboy "Hoot" Gibson.

JACK GRAHAM

One of two boys on the roster, who come from Brooklyn, Jack played a limited number of games, in the outfield, for the Gadsden Alabama Pilots, last year, but Manager Rolfe is considering a plan to make a second baseman out of him. Previous to his joining the Gadsden club, he played with the Elizabethon Cubs.

JOHN T. GROTH

Considered by many the outstanding rookie of the season, Groth had a .340 batting average with Buffalo last season and led the league with most hits, (199) doubles, (37) triples, (16) total bases, (358) and runs batted in, (124). Of German descent, he graduated from Chicago Latin School, in 1945, and was signed to a Detroit contract, on recommendation of "Pinky" Higgins, on whose Great Lakes Naval Training Station team he played. In school he starred in basketball and football. With Williamsport, in 1947, he was one of the league's leading batsmen. In addition to his prowess as a hitter, Groth is an excellent ground-coverer. Brought up after the close of the Buffalo season, in '49, he made an instant hit with Tiger fans. In 17 times at bat in Briggs Stadium, he had a mark of .470.

GEORGE EDWARD LERCHEN

George is a Detroit boy who as a member of the Flint Central League club, last season, led the organization in total bases and was its second best hitter, with 37 doubles, 14 triples and 18 home runs. He entered organized baseball, in 1942, with Jamestown. From February 1943, until December, 1945, he was in the Navy, attached to a night attack and combat training unit. He was with both Williamsport and Buffalo in 1947. Lerchen is of German extraction, is married, has a daughter, Jane Anne and lives in Detroit during the off-season.

DONALD A. LUND

Purchased early in 1949, from the Browns, Lund was a nine-letter man, at the University of Michigan before signing with the Dodgers, in 1945. Farmed out to St. Paul, he returned to Brooklyn, late in the season of 1947 and later went to the Browns, on waivers. In 63 games in 1948, he batted .248. A native of Detroit, Don attended Southeastern High School, where he also distinguished himself as an athlete. An insurance salesman during the winter months, he is of Scotch-Norwegian ancestry, married and has a daughter, Susan.

PATRICK J. MULLIN

Pat was the club's leading home run hitter, with 23, in '48. Signed by Scout Wish Egan after he had played American Legion and semi-pro ball, in Michigan, he went to Lakeland in 1941, was sent to Buffalo and recalled to the Tigers, in May of the same year, when Hank Greenberg entered the army. He suffered injuries two months later, in a collision with Pitcher Bill Dietrich, which put him out of the game for the remainder of the season. In service from March, 1942, to January, 1946, Mullin returned to the Tigers and in the early weeks of 1947, was hitting at better than a .400 clip. He slumped off as the season progressed, however, and wound up with a .256 mark. He is the owner of an automobile agency, is married and has a son, Patrick J., Jr. His home is in Brownsville, Pa.

JAMES P. OUTLAW

For the past two seasons, Jimmy has been a utility player, appearing in both infield and outfield. He came to the Tigers in 1943 and has been in organized baseball since 1934. Ten of those years, he spent with the Buffalo and Detroit clubs. Before that he was with Beckley, Decatur, Nashville, Cincinnati, Syracuse and Boston. Of English extraction, Outlaw was married Oct. 6, 1937, has a son, Perry James and lives in Alexander City, Ala.

EARL W. RAPP

Rapp came to the Tigers from the Buffalo club, in 1946. A native of Corunna, Mich., he had previous experience with the Waseau, Jamestown and Hagerstown clubs. Spent two and one-half years overseas before joining the Bisons. Farmed out to Seattle, in 1948, he appeared in 168 games, where he accumulated 36 doubles, 6 triples, 17 home runs and 96 runs batted in. He is married and resides in Swedesboro, N. J.

RICHARD CUMMINGS WAKEFIELD

Dick achieved much notoriety in 1941, when he was signed by the Tigers, after payment of a $52,000 bonus. He showed great promise as a member of the Winston-Salem and Beaumont clubs in '41 and '42 and gave his best performance with the Tigers following his release from the Naval V-12, program, in July 1943. Largely due to his playing, the club went from next to last place, to within a game of the pennant. In 110 games, last year, he had 89 hits of which 20 were doubles, five triples and 11 home runs. Of English-Irish descent, Dick is unmarried.

VICTOR W. WERTZ

Vic will be competing with 10 other candidates for a spot in the outfield, this season. He has been a Tiger since 1942, was with Winston-Salem and Buffalo, until he joined the army in 1943, saw service in the Pacific Isles until December, 1945. With the Bisons in 1946, he drove in 91 runs and hit 19 home runs. Brought up to the Tigers in '47, he hit for .288. His batting last season was less satisfactory. During the non-playing part of the year, Vic lives in York, Pa. He has a four-year-old daughter, Patricia Ann.

RADIO AND TELEVISION PROGRAMS

Harry Heilmann and Van Patrick will be the announcers on the Radio and Television broadcasts from Briggs Stadium, during the season of 1949, with the Goebel Brewing Co., of Detroit, being the sponsor of both programs.

Station WJBK will be the Detroit outlet for the A. M. description, which as in the past, will be carried over the state-wide Goebel Network.

WWJ-TV, will televise 35 of the 77 home games. This is an increase of 9, over last year's total.

Heilmann, who will be starting his fifteenth season as a broadcaster is exteremely popular with Michigan fans. Van Patrick is a recent import from Cleveland, but an experienced announcer of athletic events.
